psychologist and psychotherapist

Languages: čeština, English

Online counselling for people affected by war in Ukraine. I offer support in coping with stress, sadness and anxiety. We can discuss family and relationship issues as well. I also work often with older people and people with long-term serious illness. Respect, partnership, openness and safety are basics for my therapeutic style. I work in healthcare - palliative care and in private practice. I have graduated in psychology at Masaryk University in Brno. I am member of Czech Association for Psychotherapy. I had the privilege to co-operate with people from different countries and cultures. Looking forward to meet you.
